

“Helping conservatives impact the things they care about!”

Drew McKissick is a South Carolina based political consultant, activist and author with over thirty-five years of experience in grassroots politics and a passion for helping conservatives have an impact on the things they care about.

He currently serves as Co-Chairman of the Republican National Committee as well as State Chairman of the South Carolina Republican Party. He is a savvy, experienced strategist and political analyst, as well as a successful “how-to” authority on political activism

About Drew:

His work focuses on political strategy, planning, and activism, as well as the development of grassroots political action programs. He writes a regular political newsletter and is a frequent TV and talk-radio guest.

He has written many publications dealing with political education, organization and lobbying. His latest project, the Grassroots 101 Training Series, provides conservative activists with helpful tips on how to become more effective in our political process.
